

PARTNER CAUCUS on FIRE SUPPRESSION FUNDING SOLUTIONS

OCTOBER 5, 2017

The Honorable Mitch McConnell
Majority Leader
United States Senate

The Honorable Charles Schumer
Minority Leader

The Honorable Paul Ryan
Speaker
United States House of Representatives

The Honorable Nancy Pelosi
Minority Leader
United States House of Representatives

Dear Leader McConnell, Speaker Ryan, Leader Schumer, and Leader Pelosi:

The undersigned organizations represent the Partner Caucus on Fire Suppression Funding Solutions. The Partner Caucus seeks a comprehensive solution to the wildfire suppression funding issue that addresses the borrowing issue and the erosion of budgets due to increasing wildfire suppression costs. We urge Congress to support the Wildfire Disaster Funding Act (WDFDA) (H.R. 2862; S. 1842), a bipartisan bill that solves this critical issue.

In January 2009, our diverse coalition of organizations came together to find a solution to the repeated fire transfers and corresponding reductions to other agency programs – many of which reduce long-term fire risk. The Partner Caucus represents a diverse set of international, national, and local organizations interested in sustainable land management on private, tribal, municipal, state, and federal lands.

Longer fire seasons, increased development in the wildland-urban interface, and millions of acres of forests with increased fuel loads are among the many factors contributing to increased costs of wildfire response in the United States. This creates a crippling burden on the Department of the Interior (DOI) and the USDA Forest Service's (U.S. Forest Service) land management functions as the agencies shift resources to fund essential suppression activities – effectively delaying and terminating projects that improve forest resilience and reduce wildfire risk. In the last several years, more than 50 percent of the U.S. Forest Service's budget has been consumed by fighting wildfires. Consequently, landscape management has been negatively impacted across all lands including national forests and DOI lands, such as our national parks and state and private lands.

Many proposals in past years would ban the practice of transferring additional funds when appropriated funding is spent, but that is only a partial fix for addressing the impacts of rising wildland firefighting costs. These proposals do not address the larger problem of wildfire suppression costs consuming greater portions of the U.S. Forest Service budget over time. As the 10-year average that is used to calculate suppression costs increases, and as budgets remain relatively flat, funding is being shifted from non-fire programs to pay for fire. This results in fewer dollars for forest management and restoration, research, recreation, and other critical private and public land objectives.

A comprehensive fire funding fix would 1) address the continued erosion of agency budgets that results from the increasing 10-year average and stabilize the level of funding for suppression within the agencies, 2) access disaster funding for extraordinarily costly fires, and 3) significantly reduce the need to transfer from non-suppression accounts and programs. The WDFFA satisfies these three criteria by funding fire suppression in the U.S. Forest Service and DOI budgets at the 10-year average from 2015 and then providing access to disaster funding through a budget cap adjustment for levels beyond that amount. Freezing the 10-year average offers agencies and land managers more predictable and consistent budgets as they try to implement and execute successful programs and projects that benefit forests and communities across the United States.

We urge you to support the Wildfire Disaster Funding Act. It is imperative that Congress take action this year to solve this critical issue, and the Partner Caucus stands ready to work with you and your colleagues toward this goal.

Sincerely,

Partner Caucus on Fire Suppression Funding Solutions
